Comedy meets community at The Social Hub

We're thrilled to be the official Community Partner of the Glasgow International Comedy Festival 2025!

As the Artist Hub, you can expect comedy shows, workshops, and plenty of laughs. This year, we're excited to host the 'Introduction to Comedy' course for women and under represented genders, led by the brilliant Viv Gee.

Over 6 weeks, participants will learn the ropes of comedy and perform live in our state-of-the art Theatre!

Come join the fun and creativity at The Social Hub this festival!

WELCOME TO THE FUNNIEST CITY IN THE WORLD!

Following a record-breaking year for Glasgow International Comedy Festival, we're looking forward to another incredible event celebrating all things comedy, with plenty of homegrown and international talent performing in the city this spring.

As always, we have an abundance of Scottish talent on display with headline shows from Susie McCabe, Connor Burns and Paul Black, as well as spotlighting rising stars like Alana Jackson, Kim Blythe and Darren Connell. Plus, with an international line-up spanning the UK, Australia, America and more, there's something for every comedy fan in this year's programme.

We truly have all styles of comedy on display - from traditional stand-up, clowning, musical comedy, theatre, live podcasts and even some family comedy shows this year. We're also thrilled to be expanding our Comedy Connects programme with our new Community Partner, The Social Hub, as we run our Introduction to Comedy course for women and marginalised genders for the second year, with the aim of making comedy more accessible for all.

We send a heartfelt thanks to Glasgow Life and all of our wonderful partners who continue to support the festival as it grows and takes on new ventures - with over 550 shows taking place throughout the city, 2025 looks set to be one of our biggest events ever.

We'd encourage you to take a chance on somebody new, as well as some of your old favourites, and join us as we celebrate Glasgow as the funniest city in the world once more.

Krista MacDonald
Festival Director

The Glasgow International Comedy Festival is a treasured highlight in the city's cultural calendar. Renowned for showcasing some of the UK's most celebrated comedians alongside a wealth of diverse local talent, it offers a wide range of ways to make us laugh - from traditional stand-up and live podcasts to theatre, children's shows, musicals, and more.

Each year, the festival raises the bar on what it means to experience comedy, captivating Glaswegians and drawing visitors from across the country to join in the fun. This year, it's poised to set an even higher standard.

As we countdown to GICF 2025, coinciding with Glasgow's 850th anniversary, I am thrilled the festival will play a key role in the year-long celebrations, bringing comedy to the forefront of the city's festivities.

IT'S NOT JUST STAND-UP COMEDY AT GICF 2025

Here are nine shows that will allow you to experience something a bit different this festival

A POLITICAL BRUNCH

Saturday 15th, Saturday 22nd
& Sunday 23rd March

Tennent's Laughter Lounge @Tennent's Bar

A political comedy panel show chaired by Chris O'Neill or Harun Musho'd with up to four comedians and the audience.

BARRIOKE

Friday 14th March

Saint Luke's & The Winged Ox
Featuring Shaun Williamson aka Barry from Eastenders.

Karaoke with Barry from Eastenders... what is not to love especially if you get on stage to sing with him.

F(R)ICTION

Saturday 22nd March

Glasgow Zine Library

An improving show for book lovers.

During an evening of improvisation, the audience will be able to contribute to the events seen on the stage, as the team writes a novel in front of your eyes.

MILK ON THE SIDE: A BARISTA MUSICAL

Thursday 20th &
Friday 21st March

Riding Room

Baristas Amy and Callum are back from their sell-out show at the last festival but they're still stuck navigating the coffee-ground trenches together, where they serve up coffee, songs and stories about their lives and those of their customers.

OLD FIRM FACTS LIVE

Monday 24th March

Oran Mor

After his successful debut at last year's festival, Adam Miller returns for a celebration of all that is surreal, beautiful and hilarious about Scottish football. He'll be joined by guests featuring sketches, clips, cameos and debunked Scottish football myths.

PASTA PIÑATA

Thursday 13th March

The Old Hairdresser's

The smash-hit, late, live, interactive comedy game show.

The only show this festival where YOU have the chance to hit a piñata filled with cooked pasta in order to win eternal life.

THE BIG BAAD COMEDY QUIZ

Thursday 20th March

BAad

Join Jack Traynor & Paddy Linton for the most raucous quiz you will ever go to. Expect: dancing, insane bonus rounds, £1000 cash prize, DJs, pyro, confetti cannons, some questions and the most fun you can have whilst trying to pretend to be smart by answering questions.

THE HORNE SECTION'S HIT SHOW

Thursday 25th March

King's Theatre

They have two series of their own Channel 4 TV show and a chart-topping podcast.

Expect comedy, songs, enthusiastic dancing, and a lot of mucking about.

WALKING SHADOWS

Thursday 20th, Friday 21st
& Saturday 22nd March

Websters Theatre

Walking Shadows is a three act farce by Michael Lewis, author of last year's hit, Happy Endings.

We see behind the scenes as the misfits who make up an am-dram group put on the classic 'Oil's Well That Ends Well'.

TUESDAY
11 MARCH

ROBIN GRAINGER
Refurb

We don't officially start until the 12th but there is no-one better to pre-game with! Consecutive sell-out 5-star shows.
